New Policy for Discontinued Products

At the end of the fall/winter 2005 selling season, we discontinued many products to make room for new ones. As you know, we experienced unusually high demand for a couple of these items, and in some cases, were unable to fill customer orders. This put you in a difficult position.

To prevent this situation from recurring, we have created a new plan. We'll closely monitor our supply of discontinued products, and if we begin to run low on a product, we'll communicate that information to you in Weekly Bites and on Consultant's Corner. We'll provide you with the date by which orders must be submitted for guaranteed fulfillment. This allows you to confidently submit orders you have taken, knowing that they'll be filled.

Please be assured that we do not anticipate this situation to arise. We always plan to have enough inventory to fill orders through the end of the season. Because we saw demand increase on a few items in February, however, we wanted to provide you with a plan in case that situation were to occur again.

This new policy is designed to help you provide your hosts and customers with the superior service they expect from The Pampered Chef®.
