

MAGGIE AND HER BROTHER, BRANDON, LIKE AUTUMN.

THEIR DAD AND MOM

rake into big piles the orange, red and yellow leaves that fall from the trees in their yard. Maggie and Brandon help put the leaves into big, brown paper bags. But first, they get to jump and play in them. Their mom takes pictures and sends them to Maggie and Brandon's grandparents and uncle.

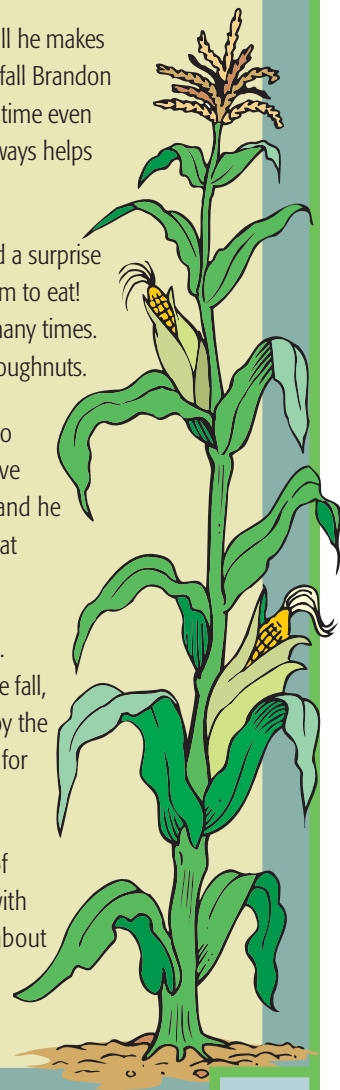

Their Uncle Keith is a farmer. He grows corn, and every fall he makes a corn maze. It's like a giant puzzle in his cornfield. Every fall Brandon and Maggie go through his corn maze. They have a great time even though they sometimes get a little bit lost. Uncle Keith always helps them find their way out.

After they came out of the maze this year, Uncle Keith had a surprise for them. He had apple cider and cider doughnuts for them to eat! It was delicious. Brandon and Maggie said "Thank you" many times. Brandon got a little tummy ache from eating too many doughnuts.

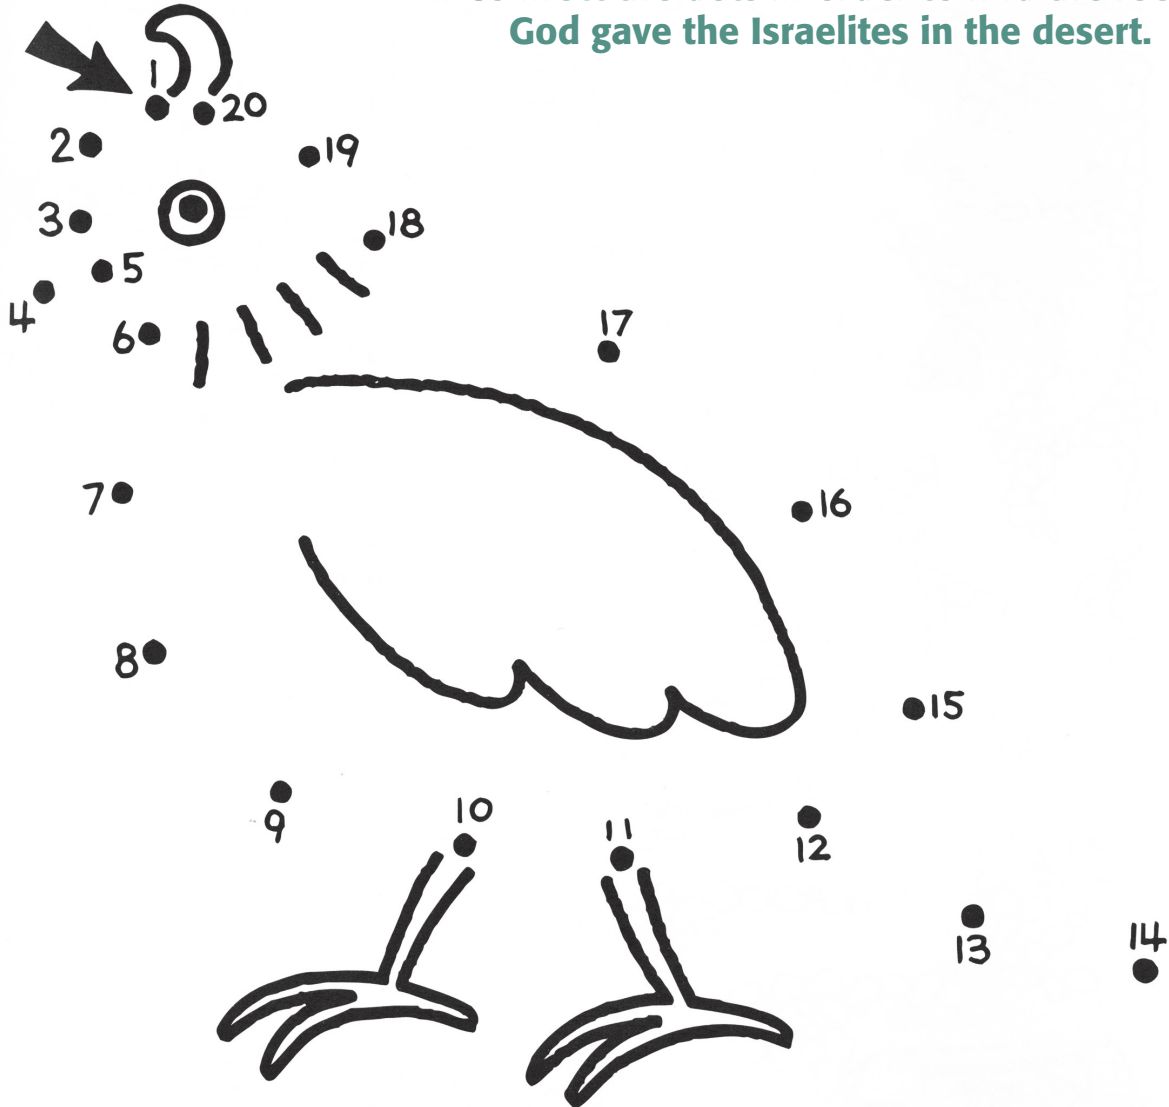

Uncle Keith gave them some Indian corn to take home to put on their door as a special fall decoration. He also gave them a pumpkin pie to take home. He is a good baker, and he wanted to share with his family all of the good things that God had given to him on his farm.

We can thank God for the good things He has given to us. Some of the good things include food that we enjoy in the fall, like pumpkins and cranberries. Psalm 63:5 tells us to enjoy the foods God made for us. Today, why don't you thank God for the good things He has given to you?!

Parent Pointers: Have a piece of pumpkin pie or other fall treat with your child. Use the time to talk about God's goodness to your family.
