

THANKSGIVING VERSION: LEFT – RIGHT GAME

The Wright family was invited to the Left family's house for Thanksgiving dinner. The night before Mrs. Wright was making her special dessert dish to take to the Lefts house. In all the hustle of grocery shopping for the holiday occasion, Mrs. Wright forgot to get some of the ingredients for her dessert. Oh she was so upset. Mrs. Wright said she could have sworn she bought all the ingredients.

Mr. Wright offered to run to the store for her, Mr. Wright went right out to the car and discovered the rest of the ingredients right where Mrs. Wright had left it on the seat of the car. Mrs. Wright mixed up her special dessert and found that the oven wasn't working properly. It wouldn't preheat. Mr. Wright told Mrs. Wright not to worry they would get her a new stove right after the Thanksgiving and they would pick up a dessert right before the left to go the Lefts.

Thanksgiving Day was finally here and the Wrights were all very excited about spending the day with their friends the Lefts. Thanksgiving is their favorite holiday. They look forward to leftovers.

In the car Mrs. Wright sat on the left of Mr. Wright. Bobby Wright sat on the left of Katie Wright. The Left family lived downtown on the left side of Rite Street. As the Wright family pulled up into the Left family's driveway, they saw that Mr. Left was standing in the doorway to greet them. The two Wright family children said that there must be something wrong. Mrs. Left looked very upset.

The Wrights got out of the car to see what the problem was. Mrs. Left told the Wrights that her stove broke down and she was unable to cook the Thanksgiving dinner. Well said Mr. Wright. The only thing left to do is to go to Wrightsville to eat at Lefty's.
